

Event Privacy Notice

Informa will use your personal information provided during the registration process to manage our events, specifically in the following way:

Use of Personal Information

By registering to attend our event, you are providing your personal information to be shared with us for analytical and marketing purposes, including business matching services, where you may be invited to attend an in-person meeting at the event with a matched industry contact. We / Our appointed third-party vendor may contact you for such purposes and recommending products/ services matching your interest. You can opt-out of this contact at any time by contacting us at marketing@osea-asia.com.